SYMPOSIUM

Future Directions in Cellular Trafficking

細胞輸送の今後の方向性

Friday 4 June 2010

iCeMS, Kyoto University, Japan

To celebrate 10 years of publishing, Traffic: The International Journal of Intracellular Transport is pleased to announce a one-day symposium at Kyoto University, Japan. Co-sponsored by the Institute for Integrated Cell-Material Sciences (iCeMS), Kyoto University.

Programme

- 08:30-9:30 'Meet the Editors of Traffic' breakfast session (please confirm if you wish to attend this)
- 10:00-10:15 Introduction
- 10:15-10:45 Aki Kusumi: A Tale of Two Meso-Scale Membrane Domains As Told by Single-Molecule Tracking
- 10:45-11:15 Gerrit van Meer: Glycosphingolipids and Intracellular Transport
- 11:15-11:45 Coffee break
- 11:45-12:15 Akihiko Nakano: Membrane budding and fusion in the secretory pathway
- 12:15-12:45 Tom Stevens: Assembly and Sorting of the Yeast V-ATPase
- 12:45-1:45 Lunch
- 1:45-2:15 Nobutaka Hirokawa: Intracellular Transport and Kinesin Superfamily Proteins, KIFs: Functions, Regulations and Mechanism of Motility
- 2:15-2:45 Trina Schroer: New Insights into the Structure and Function of the Dynein/Dynactin Motor
- 2:45-3:15 Frances Brodsky: Clathrin Structure and Physiological Function
- 3:15-3:30 Tea
- 3:30-4:00 Hiroshi Ohno: Glycoprotein 2: An Antigen-Uptake Receptor on Intestinal Epithelial M Cells for Mucosal Immunity
- 4:00-4:30 Mark Marsh: HIV replication: Fidelity of assembly and pathogenesis
- 4:30-5:00 Yoshinori Ohsumi: Molecular Machinery for Membrane Dynamics during Autophagy in Yeast
- 5:00-5:10 Concluding Remarks
- 5:10-6:00 Reception
